The United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women)
New York
Section One: Priorities, achievements, challenges and setbacks

1. What have been the most important achievements, challenges and set-backs in progress towards gender equality and the empowerment of women over the past 5 years?

✓ On February 21, 2017, the First woman Vice-President of the Republic of Azerbaijan was appointed. It is the second-highest constitutional post in Azerbaijan, after the President.

✓ One of the achievements was creation country wide on-line database on domestic violence against women in order to improve collection, analysis and use of data. The presentation ceremony of the mentioned on-line database was held on 4th October, 2017. Ministry of Justice, Ministry of Internal Affairs, Ministry of Labour and Social Protection of Population, the State Committee for Family, Women and Children Affairs and local executive powers have access to this database. These agencies are considered to collect relevant data and enter it to the database which includes information about the victim (including sex, age and relationship with the accused), perpetrator, location and interim measures (protection order) and final judgments. Currently, measures are carried out jointly with the United Nations Population Fund in order to ensure better improvements of online database.

✓ The second important challenge was economic empowerment of women. A number of projects were implemented in the direction of increasing the percentage of the women entrepreneurs. Government believes that economic independence of women is one of the components of their active participation in political and public life. It facilitates poverty reduction, ensure advance in women’s economic and social performance and in many cases eliminates gender based discrimination in society. The Association of Women Entrepreneurs of Azerbaijan was established in October 2017. The Association has concluded memorandums of cooperation with the ... associations of women entrepreneurs in order to learn and share experience and best practices. Azerbaijan’s Trade Houses have been opened by the Ministry of Economy in different parts of the world and women entrepreneurs of Azerbaijan are actively involved by the government in this activity. As a result of state programs and different projects, the number of women entrepreneurs have been increased from 4% to 29%. More than 172,000 women are engaged in entrepreneurial activity across the country.

✓ On May 30, 2018, the State Committee for Family, Women and Children Affairs held the V Forum of Women dedicated to 100 years anniversary of granting full suffrage. The purpose of the forum was marking the 100th anniversary of the election right to women and the progress achieved in the protection of women's rights over the past 100 years.

2. Which of the following have been the top five priorities for accelerating progress for women and girls in your country over the past five years through laws, policies and/or programs? (please check relevant categories)

✓ Poverty eradication, agricultural productivity and food security

✓ Eliminating violence against women and girls

✓ Political participation and representation

✓ Changing negative social norms and gender stereotypes

Poverty eradication, agricultural productivity and food security

- The adoption and implementation of targeted policy documents, such as the State Program on Poverty Reduction and Sustainable Development for 2008-2015, a wide range of state programs for the social-economic development of the regions, as well as specific state programs, the implementation of necessary reforms in relevant areas, the legislative framework (different laws and regulatory acts were adopted on the cost of living, targeted social assistance, social benefits, pensions and other issues) contributed to the poverty eradication.

- 12 strategic road maps approved pursuant the Decree of the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan on the Strategic Roadmaps on National Economy and Key Sectors of the Economy, agricultural production and processing production of consumer goods by small and medium sized enterprises; affordable housing; vocational education and training; financial services; telecommunications and information technologies; utilities (power and thermal energy, water and gas).

- United Nations-Azerbaijan Partnership Framework (UNAPF) for 2010-2016. The UNAPF development process took into account the national priorities set out in Azerbaijan 2020 as well as post-2015 goals. The document identified three interrelated strategic priority areas: 1) Promoting sustainable and inclusive economic development underpinned by increased diversification and decent work; 2) Strengthening institutional capacities and effective public and social services; 3) Improving environmental management and resilience to hazards and human-induced disasters. All these State Programs contain gender component as one of the main strategic direction.

_Eliminating violence against women and girls_

The establishment of monitoring groups on combating all forms of violence against children representing different state organizations (Ministry of Justice, Ministry of Internal Affairs, Ministry of Health, Ministry of Education, Ministry of Labour and Social Protection of Population, Azerbaijan Attorney General) and executive powers is one of the gained achievements in Azerbaijan for the protection of the rights. To improve collection, analysis, use of data and research on children’s situation, the Government of Azerbaijan has already started the establishment of country-wide on-line database on children’s rights that is being implemented to better coordinate situation in this field with the participation of relevant ministers.
All the information about the children is being included to the children's database—information on children and their parents, children deprived of parental care, orphans, children at risk, children in state institutions, the children was subject to violence or violence committed by children.

Official presentation on inter-agency GBV was realized to ensure improved institutional response capacity as well as availability of an adequate tool for internal accountability and performance monitoring as regards collection, analysis and use of data on domestic violence. The representatives from all relevant agencies have been duly registered in the system in the capacity of the Database users. These agencies will collect relevant data and enter it to the database which includes information about the victim (including the information on sex, age and relationship with the perpetrator), perpetrator, location, interim measures (protection orders, court judgments, etc.). The SCFWCA acts as the Administrator of the Database in line with the respective order of the Cabinet of Ministers. 652 facts of domestic violence including 346 cases in 2015, 306 cases of in 2016. Totally 650 facts were registered in the electronic data bank according to the 1 October 2017 - 20 December 2018.

The State Committee for Family, Women and Children’s Affairs initiated a two-year project entitled "Combating gender-based violence in Azerbaijan" in close partnership with UNFPA and US Agency for International Development (USAID) in 2016-2017. The main objective of the project was to support the Government of Azerbaijan with creation of effective guidance and response mechanisms to combat gender-based violence. The project was implemented through the series of interrelated components on improvement of legal and policy framework, large scale awareness-raising campaigns, provision of trainings for relevant service providers, as well as development of integrated strategies to coordinate multi-sectorial approaches to addressing violence against women that are expected to contribute to the series of major outcomes, outputs and results. Azerbaijan Government is currently engaged in the development of the National Action Plan on GBV prevention and response as well as the guidelines for establishment of the inter-agency coordination mechanism as regards this issue. Both policy documents have major provisions on improving the delivery of support, protection and rehabilitation services through support and referral centers for victims of violence. The document also envisions further revision of the accreditation rules and procedures for the centers in a capacity to provide the adequate support services to the victims of GBV. The National Action Plan on domestic violence has passed through relevant state agencies and is presented to the Cabinet of Ministers for approval.

As an example of high-level advocacy events it is worth to mention annual 16 Days of Activism Against Gender Based Violence Campaigns that provided platform to review the progress regarding implementation of the national legal and policy framework on domestic violence and the related international commitments.

As a part of strategies to engage men and boys in violence prevention, following events were introduced:

- During the football game, the players of the football team raised red card to tribunes and TV cameras to urge male audience to say No to gender based violence. Symbolizing penalty for offense in various sporting codes and seeking suspension from game, red cards were shown to all batterers and abusers. The message was clear: “if you commit gender based violence, then you get a red card and you are out of the game”. More than 88,000 people watched the game online and on TV with 14,000 watching the game from the tribunes during the performance.

- To emphasize the linkages between the GBV and human rights the special performance took place on the International Human Rights Day, December 10th 2018. Flash mobs were organized in the shopping malls of Baku to reach out to young population with message in more engaging and entertaining way. The flash mob brought attention to education problems of women and girls as a basic prerequisite for elimination of gender based violence. The trees symbolizing a woman as a stem of progress were installed at the center of shopping malls' entrance halls. The paper leaves of the tree accommodated popular quotes of famous persons about women's education and empowerment. At the very start of the flash mob, a young female violin player approached the tree and began to perform amazing classical music. Meanwhile, young ladies in black and white cloaks from various points of mall started to head to the tree and picked the leaves. After a pause they all threw off their cloaks and appeared in various outfits, symbolizing different professions - lawyers, engineers, sportswomen, etc. The main message delivered to the audience was: sustainable development is possible with the educated and empowered women that are provided with all necessary resources and opportunities to realize their potential and contribute to the wellbeing of their respective societies and their country.

- Conferences "Leave no one behind: stop violence against women and girls!" are annually held in November by the State Committee for Family, Women and Children Affairs, UN agencies and the United States Agency for International Development (USAID).

For the first time in Azerbaijan, the UN Population Fund with the assistance of SCFWCA launched a research entitled "Financial Losses Caused by Gender Based Violence" at the end of 2018. The result of the investigation will reflect, the value of lost economic productivity as a result of the victim's violence, the amount of medical, social and legal support provided to the victim, as well as the factors and figures that would prevent the victim from gaining further benefits. It will accelerate the implementation of strategies and policies on prevention of GBV in the country.

Taking into account the importance of women's legal awareness, two-day training seminars were held among women living in the regions in September- November 2017. The "Women's Rights Guide", a joint publication by the State Committee for Family, Women and Children Affairs and the GIZ, publication of "Legislation on Prevention of Domestic Violence in the Republic of Azerbaijan", as well as the State Committee's Family, Women's Journal was distributed to the participants.

Political participation and representation

Leadership, leadership styles, leadership characteristics, women's rights, women's participation at local level, public awareness, legal mechanisms were covered at the training.

Women are more and more involved in the decision making process and state bodies. The number of women in the parliament has increased from 11% (13 deputies) in the 2005 elections to 16% in the last elections (20 women out of 125 deputies) and the representation of women at municipal level has increased from 4% (2004 elections) to 35% in the elections of 2014.
